October
- Release of Updated Narrative Alpha

The Narrative Alpha will be released on a re-architected platform with an entirely new front-end, which will preview the user experience for the beta version. The back-end, built on a more distributed model, will enable high uptime and availability. This update will kickoff incremental releases through the beta launch.

Path to Narrative Beta

Features we'll be building and incrementally rolling out:

- Personal Journals - profile, content creation tools, and publishing options
- Niches - content creation, profile, and management hub
- Moderator Elections - the addition of moderator election tools
- Content Streams - personal, trending, recommended, and channel-specific
- Content Ratings - quality ratings, age ratings, and reporting
- Comments - ability to post and rate comments
- Sharing and bookmarking - ability to share via supported platforms and bookmark content
- Reputation - implementation of the reputation algorithm and display
- Network Rewards - rewards pool, accounting, and distribution system
